

Food, fashion, and fun were on the menu at Piazza restaurant in the Renaissance Mall

For many, Saturday lunch became a real outing in the atrium-like ambiance of the Renaissance Mall in Oranjestad this past weekend. The dynamic team of Maria Silva and Fernando Mansur organized a combination fashion show/lunch happening at the Piazza restaurant, and one must admit, the layout and surroundings were perfect for such an event.

Piazza provided a special lunch and dinner menu, and Knock Out Model Agency provided the beautiful faces and bodies that wove their way amongst the clientele. Fernando, well versed in running fashion shows provided the commentary as some of Aruba's most attractive young people modeled casual and swimwear during the first of three shows to take place during the afternoon and early evening.

Every Gottex bathing suit from Eva Boutique was a knockout, as was the collection from Confetti on the Beach. Beautiful ensembles, with matching raps made many a diner want to run out and go shopping. Fabulous accessories from Extravaganza and Dufry were also quite tempting, and later shows featured not only casual, but glamorous evening wear as well.

Piazza provided a fabulous choice of dishes of generous proportions, and many a fashion conscious individual found that the lovely parade of beautiful outfits made the perfect desert!
